Honor Court Initiates Steps to Amend Art. 6 of Constitution

Spirit of Honor System Violated in Case, but Court Unable to Act Because of Technicalities

ENG. LIT., PUB. SPK. INCLUDED

Necessary Amendments Are Made in Accordance with Article 9

A case has come to the attention of the Honor Court during the past week in which the spirit of the Honor Court was decidedly violated. The accused person in this case was declared guilty, but on the grounds of technicalities the Court could not find him guilty.

The pledge according to the present constitution must be signed only to themes in English Composition. Since the cribbed work in this instance was incorporated in an essay for English Literature, the Honor Court was powerless to act. To avoid such a situation in the future, the Court has proposed to amend Article Six. The amendment drawn up by the Court is as follows:

Article Six

Sec. 1. Student discipline in the courses in English Composition, Public Speaking, and English Literature is that phase of the Honor System under which every student shall be on his honor to abstain from fraud in written work submitted in the above-mentioned courses.

Sec. 2. Fraud in the above-mentioned courses shall consist in the incorporation of another person's work in any written exercise without enclosing the words in quotation marks.

Sec. 3. Each student must, in order to make valid any written exercise in Eiglish Composition, Public Speaking, and English Literature, sign the following statement: "I have not incorporated another person's work in this theme (declamation, oration) without enclosing the words in quotation marks.

Sec. 4. In case of reported fraud in such an exercise, the Committee shall operate as in the case of reported fraud in examinations as explained in article 4, section 1.

Sec. 5. The penalty for fraud in such an exercise shall be determined under the following regulations:

Previous Notice Necessary

This amendment is being published in Life in accordance with Article 9 of the Constitution of the Honor Court.

CHARLATANS ARE SUCCESS AT WELLS

"CANDIDA" MAY BE NEXT PLAY

Shaw's Famous Play Will Likely be Choice for Commencement Performance

The performance of "Outward Bound" which the Charlatans gave at Wells College a week ago Saturday was a great success. It was given under the auspices of the senior class there. An appreciative audience of about five hundred persons saw the presentation. The members of the cast did not arrive in Aurora until late on Saturday afternoon and were only able to rehearse the first act of the play, their first rehearsal since the close of college. After the performance the cast was entertained with a dance, the twenty men in the party being rushed by about two hundred and fifty feminine stags.

Play for Commencement

Now the Charlatans are making plans for the commencement play. George Bernard Shaw's play "Candida" is under consideration, but nothing definite has been decided as yet by those in charge. This is considered by many to be Shaw's best play. Critics claim that a hundred years from now "Candida" will be preserved as the greatest play of this period. It is now having a highly successful run in New York City. Katherine Cornell, acclaimed by dramatists as the Eleanore Duse of the future, has just finished playing the role of Candida, which is now being taken by Peggy Wood, the wife of John V. A. Weaver, '14.

The setting for the play is London of the nineties. There are only six characters in the play. The play revolves about the love of Marchbanks, a youthful poet, for Candida. She is the wife of Morell, a conventional young minister, who spends most of his time, however, in addressing socialistic gatherings. Prossie, his typist, has kept for years the secret of her love for him. Candida does not reject the love of idealistic Marchbanks, because she wants to disillusion him, rather than let some women of dubious reputation do so. Morell becomes jealous of the poet and finaly confronts him. They decide that Candida must choose between them. Candida, who is apparently the strongest character in the play, has each of them express his love for her, and after deliberation decides that her husband, while more mature than Marchbanks, is really weaker than the poet, and therefore more in need of her. Marchbanks takes his loss philosophically and proves that he is really the strongest character, because he has a keener insight into life. It is a very powerful play. Shaw has idealized all that is fine and noble in women in the character of Candida.

DR. FERRY RETURNS FROM CALIFORNIA

Attends Meeting of Alumni Asso. of California, and Meeting of Alumni Asso. of Chicago

HOCKEY TEAM TO THE COAST

Meeting of Mount Holyoke Alumnae Asso. of S. Cal. Also Addressed

Dr. Ferry has just returned from a hasty trip across the continent, which consumed three weeks, the greater part of which period was spent in travelling. Dr. Ferry went by boat to New Orleans, where he passed a day and a half in sight seeing. He then proceeded via the Santa Fe Railroad. All during the trip, the temperature was consistently above 80 degrees—a pleasurable contrast to the March winds of College Hill!

The chief event of Dr. Ferry's activities on the Coast was his attendance at the Hamiton Dinner at the Hotel Huntington, in Pasadena, on the evening of Wednesday, March 18th. This affair was planned by Stephen W. Royce, '14, secretary of the Alumni Association of California. There were 40 alumni present. The officers chosen for the coming year were John M. Curran, '92, of Santa Barbara, president, and Stephen W. Royce, '14, secretary and treasurer. The recent president, Dean Thomas G. Burt, '95, of Occidental College, presided. The speakers were Dr. Ferry, Senator Davenport, J. Platt Underwood, '70, of Chicago, and John M. Curran, '92, of Santa Barbara.

An interesting coincidence of this dinner was the presence of Edgar N. Miller, '14, of Albany, who was catcher of the baseball team during the years when Royce proved so great a pitcher, and who had not met the other member of that famous battery since graduation.

The possibility of bringing the Varsity hockey team to the coast next Christmas, and matching it with the best of the western skaters, was discussed, and the plan was warmly endorsed.

Dr. Ferry made visits to Leland Stanford University, and the University of California. On Saturday, March 21st, he attended and addressed the annual banquet of the Mount Holyoke Alumnae Association of Southern California, in Pasadena.

The Hamilton Alumni Association of Chicago met for luncheon at the University Club at 12:30 on Saturday, March 28th. There were about 35 in attendance. Joel D. Hunter, '03, of Evanston, presided. The principal speaker was Dr. Ferry, who gave a general account of affairs at College. The officers elected for the coming year were Miller Cross, '10, president, and Reno H. Peterson, '17, secretary and treasurer.

COLLEGE BRIEFS

—There will be an important meeting of the Math Club Wednesday evening, April 15, at 7:30, in the Root Hall of Science. Treatises on the Fourth Dimension and Non-Euclidian Geometry will be given. After the meeting members of the club will retire to Professor Brown's home for a social hour.

—Paul R. Taylor, '26, was recently elected circulation manager of the Royal Gaboon for the coming year. Spring House Party number of Gaboon will be out May 16. Advertising Manager Bohn expects to call out the freshman competitiors for the position of advertising manager on the Gaboon board in the near future.

Schmaltz Writes to "Life" Regarding Spring Row

Editor of Hamilton Life:

The reason for the refusal of the Sophomores and Freshmen to furnish amusement for the upperclassmen in the traditional row before the Spring Vacation, is easily understood. The present underclassmen have been getting along, with few exceptions, remarkably well together. Why, in the name of common sense, under these circumstances should they row with absolutely no other object in view than the maintenance of a tradition they regard as unworthy? The present Sophomores and Freshmen are not opposed to the September row, and the rows during banquet season. On the other hand, they, with the rest of the college believe those rows are essential to the preservation of class spirit. Fine! There is an object there.

Aside from the fact that it provides an excellent opportunity to work off a personal grudge, the Spring Row has absolutely no excuse for exsiting, in its present form. The consensus of opinion within the two classes is this—Give us something to row for, and we'll be glad to oblige.

Along this line of thought, the writer would suggest, as one of many possible stunts, that something in the nature of a "flag rush" be adopted next spring. The details could easily be worked out. Then the upperclassmen would be satisfied, and the Slimers and Rusties would gain their point, viz, rowing with an object. A flag rush is but one of numerous plans which could be used. If we're going to live together, we might as well all be happy.

Hopefully,
SCHMALTZ.

SUB-FRESHMAN DAY PROGRAM IS PLANNED

Many Events are Planned—Annual Prize Speaking Contest is to Be Discontinued

CLASSES TO END AT 10:30

Athletic Contests with Union to be Considered Feature of Day

Plans to make Sub-Freshman Day, which is now less than a month away, the most successful in the history of the College are being made by the Interfraternity Council. "Fos" Williams, chairman of the committee on Sub-Freshman Day Activities, has been devoting a great deal of time to perfecting the schemes projected for the day's program. Everything possible is going to be done to make May 9 a memorable day for our visitors.

The various crowds on the Hill are expecting to entertain an unusually large number of fellows from high schools and prep schools throughout the country, who are interested in Hamilton.

Although the program for the day is still largely tentative, and there is no certainty about many of the scheduled events, it will probably run something like this. Classes for the day will be held as usual until 10:30 a. m. The two last hour classes will be omitted. The prize-speaking contest which in past years has always been one of the features of Inter-Academic Day, will not take place this year. In its stead, the Charlatans will put on a performance of either "Outward Bound" or "Ghosts." The Charlatan play will be given in the Gymnasium during the latter half of the morning. The D. T.'s which will have been chosen from the class of 1928 will put on a skit as is customary.

Afternoon Events

The afternoon of Sub-Freshman Day will be taken up by a trio of encounters between Hamilton and Union—a baseball game, a tennis match, and a track meet. Thus our guests will be given the opportunity of seeing three of our teams in action against our oldest and dearest rival.

At seven o'clock, the college will give a banquet in honor of its guests in the Hall of Commons. Dr. Ferry and Dean Saunders are among those who have already consented to speak at this function. After the banquet, to conclude the activities of the day, the Musical Clubs will give a concert.

"H" DINNER IN UTICA

On April 20, 1925, at the Yahnundasis Golf Club, Utica, at 7 p. m., a dinner will be held to which all wearers of the "H" are invited.

It has been thought advisable for the present and future good of Hamilton College athletics that there should be a meeting of the past winners of the varsity "H" and the present holders of the "H" in college.

The self-appointed "H" committee consists of Paul B. Williams, '08, Sherrill Sherman, '04, Conklin Mann, '06.

—There will be an important meeting of the History Club at the Lambda Xi Sigma house on the evening of Wednesday, April 15.

SHOULD HAMILTON HAVE MORE RIGID ENTRANCE RULES?

Dr. Squires When Interviewed Gave Opinions which Indicate Need for Thought in This Matter

200 APPLICANTS FOR '29

Dr. Ferry Discusses Problem and Says "Men with Most Character Wanted"

Out of a probable 200 applicants for the class of 1929 the college is able to admit but 140 because of the recent ruling of the trustees limiting the student body to 400. To date the committee on entrance has not arrived at any definite decision on how to eliminate the remaining 60 men. Several plans have been suggested, and at present the committee is studying the systems used in the leading colleges and universities of the East.

Dr. Squires Interviewed

Prof. William H. Squires in an exclusive interview with Life declared that whatever decision is made in the matter, the college will give no preference to an applicant because of athletic ability. Dr. Squires suggests the following method for selecting the best men to compose the next freshman class:

1. Raise the standard of scholarship.
2. Apply the best intelligence tests.
3. Require a certificate of character signed by a dozen responsible citizens of the community from which the boy comes.

In discussing the situation, Dr. Squires said:

"What the colleges are looking for now is the man who comes well prepared, who comes with character, and who does not come to college to throw character away after he gets in. The world is criticizing the college on the grounds that college is the place where a young man loses his character, his religion, his habits of diligent work, and his ideal of economy.

"Four years of college life are filled with a great many changes. The young man cuts loose from all his former ties and responsibilities. Admitting that there are dangers in this situation, the colleges are seeking to eliminate those who do not give promise of enough ability to withstand dangers inherent in a college education and life.

"Devise some method of discovering at entrance men who will make proper use of the opportunities furnished by the college at immense expense. It would be an economic folly for higher educational institutions to go to the expense of furnishing opportunities for all who knock at the college doors before means have been taken to eliminate from the college the undesirable elements."

Declaring that "some of our big universities are the club houses of the disgusted rich," he characterized colleges as "kindergartens for the new rich, where parents are glad to send their boys to be taken care of until they grow up, boys with their Pierce Arrows, their booze, their social functions, and their trips to New York."

Baseball Material Promises Good Season of Exciting Games

Need of New Material is Felt—Daily Practice of Squad of Fifty Likely to Reveal Some Dark Horses

CAPT. MORRIS IN OUTFIELD

Lack of Pitchers Seems to be Weakest Spot in This Season's Team

Varsity and freshman baseball practice has been under way for a week since the spring vacation, and Coach McBride is now trying to round the varsity into shape for the first contest of the season, the game with Rochester on May 2 on the opposing team's diamond. It will be the policy of the coaching staff to hold practice games between the varsity and the freshman players from now until the opener. The squad has been favored, during the short time practice weather for this time of year, and it has been outdoors, by unusually good is to be hoped that it will continue good for the rest of the season.

There have been nearly fifty men out for practice daily on both squads. The number will probably be cut this week or the beginning of next. The squad this year, however, feels the lack of new material to take the place of men who have been graduted since last season, or who have left college for other reasons.

Positions Reviewed

The most noticeable weakness this year is in the pitching staff. In previous years there have usually been at least two veterans competing for this position, but this year Martin, '26, is the only veteran out for the team. He will be the mainstay of the box through this season. Donahue, '23, is also available and may be used this year. He was the pitcher on the freshman team a year ago. A promising candidate for the box was lost when Richards, '26, injured himself a short time ago. Of the first year men, Axtel looks the best, and it is possible that he may be put with the varsity.

Captain Morris will probably be shifted to the outfield and the burden of the catching will fall on Lewis, '27. Tolles, '28, is catching well and may be advanced to the varsity. The shifting of Morris to the outfield is done to strengthen another weak place in the team, no veterans being available for this position, inasmuch as Ricketts, '26, is ineligible to play. Other candidates for the outfield are Springman, '27, and possibly Courteau, '26. King, '27, is showing up well at shortstop. Payne, '26, will take the place at third base left vacant by Sarcka's leaving college. Hatch, '25, and MacLean, '27, seem to be fixtures at first and second base respectively.

On the whole, the team is weak in pitchers and in outfield material. There are some promising freshman outfielders, but it is doubtful if they will be brought to the varsity. The main task of the coaching staff will be to build up a team out of the existing material (for it is possible that no freshmen will be used in varsity games) and to develop each player to his greatest potentialities.

DR. BONHAM TO WRITE PART OF BIOGRAPHY

Engages in Research Work in Washington and New York Preparing Biography of Robert Livingston

LIVINGSTON'S 1ST BIOGRAPHY

This is to be Part of Series of Lives of the Secretaries of State

During the recent spring vacation Dr. Bonham did research work in preparation for a biography of Robert R. Livingston, which will appear in a series of the lives of the Secretaries of State, in ten volumes, written by the leading historians of the country. No biography of Livingston has ever been written before this time. At the library of the New York Historical Society in New York City Dr. Bonham examined the sources of material about Livingston. One of the employees of this library is Miss Barch, a sister of Oscar T. Barck of the class of '23, who has taken his Ph.D. degree in history at Cornell. At the New York Public Library Dr. Bonham also got considerable material for his biography. He spent most of his time in Washington in the manuscript department of the Congressional Library examining the papers of the Continental Congress and reading the Livingston letters and manuscripts.

Consults with Editor of Series

In Washington Dr. Bonham had a consultation with the editor-in-chief of the series, Dr. James Brown Scott, secretary of the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace. The first volume will contain the biography of Livingston, the Secretary of Foreign Affairs under the Contintental Congress and a biography of John Jay written by Dr. Scott. The general introduction to the seriess is to be written by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University. The historical background will be written by Dr. Scott. Livingston as first Secretary of Foreign Affairs helped formulate this country's earliest policies of diplomacy, and had a great deal to do with the establishment of the State Department.

Meets Noted Historian

Among the prominent historians whom Dr. Bonham met in Washington was Dr. W. K. Boyd, head of the history department of Duke University and editor of the South Atlantic Quarterly. Dr. Boyd expressed gratification tha Louis T. Ibbotson of the class of '22 is to be on the staff of the Duke University library next fall. Dr. Bonham stated that the trip as a whole was highly successful.

GOV'T LOOKING INTO HILL P. O. SITUATION

First Asst. Postmaster General's Letter Promises Investigation

As a result of a letter from Life the Post Office Department at Washington is now making a thorough investigation of the mail delivery situation at Hamilton. The schedule of two deliveries of mail each day that the college is now receiving is a direct result of the campaign instituted and carried on by Life. Another development of this drive is the fact that the morning mail is now delivered on the Hill an hour earlier than it was in the beginning of the year. Soon after the appearance of the first article and editorial on the mail service, Mr. Henry Roberts, the postmaster at Clinton, interviewed Dr. Ferry and agreed to make the changes in the delivery now being followed. The editorial staff of Life realized that one delivery of mail a day, in the latter part of the morning, was not adequate for the college community and decided, therefore, to attempt to effect an improvement in conditions.

Letter from Postal Department

In the latter part of February Life sent a letter to the Postmaster General to find out if anything could be done to relieve these conditions, and the following reply was recently received:

"The Postmaster General has handed me your letter of Feb. 27, 1925, requesting the establishment of a postal station of Clinton at Hamilton College, or that two deliveries of mail a day be provided.

"A thorough investigation will be made and be asssured that such action will be taken as the circumstances may warrant." Sincerely yours,
JOHN H. BARTLETT,

HAMILTON MAKES GOOD SHOWING IN INTERCOLLEGIATE FENCING MATCHES

In the Intercollegiate fencing tournament, held in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Astor, New York City, April 2nd and 3rd, the Hamilton foils team, represented by Captain Packer, Scott, and Kittell, came off with second place, being defeated for the championship by the Navy by one touch. The defeat by the Navy 5 to 4 was the only setback suffered by the Buff and Blue foilsmen. Yale, the Army, Harvard, and N. Y. U. were defeated.

The team standing in the foils was as follows: Navy won 5, lost none; Hamilton won 4, lost 1; Army won 2, lost 3; Yale won 2, lost 3; N. Y. U. won none, lost 5.

The epee team, represented by Scovel and Gregory, won fourth place in the epee competition, winning one bout, tying one, and losing three. Yale won first place.

Hamilton was represented by Dayton, Britten, and Dold in the competition for the Clements medal, national novice championship, which was held in New York at the same time as the Intercollegiates. Dayton won ten of his twelve bouts, while Britten won nine out of twelve, and Dold nine out of twelve.

Publications and Advertising.

A few weeks ago the startling statement was made before an assembled group of undergraduates by one of their number that the firms who advertise in Hamilton College periodicals, Life, Royal Gaboon, and Hamiltonian, are swindled out of their money. He continued his argument by saying, "It is not the hard working, pleading, persuading, cajoling, and yet enterprising business and advertising managers who are the swindlers, but the students of this college are."

Perhaps this bit of harsh criticism may seem unwarranted, but if carefully considered, the statement can be most justly defended.

It is about two years ago that there appeared in Life an editorial which stated, "The publications of the college have reached a critical point in their lives, for the time is coming when Utica advertisers will refuse their support to the magazines, unless they feel that they are getting some return on the sum of money they are investing in advertising each year."

And it now seems that that warning was not in vain, for that time has now arrived. The complaint is common among the Utica merchants and business men that they are not realizing on their advertising in the Hamilton publications what they should, because Hamilton men do not purchase from them, and as a result they refuse to advertise.

That they are entirely correct in advancing these statements is a matter for some argument, but the fact remains that this condition can be eliminated to a certain extent by the undergraduates who are supposed to be the swindlers in this case. They can do their purchasing in the Utica shops instead of saving it all for the home-city shops.

Perhaps the advertiser is wrong; perhaps Hamilton men are purchasing a great deal in the Utica shops. Can it be that these shops do not realize this? If this is so, the solution is simple. It is then just a matter of identifying oneself. Surely it is not a difficult thing for the purchaser to let the shopkeeper know that he is from the Hill. This will prove to the merchant that his advertising in the Hamilton publications is successful, and incidentally the publications will benefit greatly thereby.

The seriousness of this situation certainly must be realized, for Hamilton publications are supported in the main by the returns realized on the advertising. If the source of this income is neglected, the publications will cease to exist. Is it true that the men in college do not care who supports the college publications as long as they come out every week, month, or year? H. C. B., '26.

A Board of Advertising Managers.

Hamilton, away from the center of activities on a hill all alone, has not infreqently been thought of as a little community all by herself. As such her demands are many, and the amount expended in supplying these wants is proportionately large. It has been estimated that three hundred and ninety thousand dollars go somewhere in the course of a college term. The building and furnishing of two new fraternity houses in one year cost nearly two hundred thousand dollars. Enormous quantites of food products are being consumed, the cost of which can readily be realized.

This all means that business somewhere is profiting greatly in supplying the needs for activities here. Business concerns are continually taking money from the Hill in a way that is not apparent to the average person who is not concerned with such expenditures.

Since, therefore, large sums are being daily paid out by those living on the Hill, and since nearby merchants and business men are profiting by these expenditures; does it not follow that the establishments which get this business should reciprocate by advertising in the college publications? But the problem comes in trying to reach these business houses which are reaping the profits from the Hill trade.

Several suggestions have been made to solve this problem. The best of these in the opinion of many is a plan to have a central advertising board composed of the business managers of the publications. They could make a survey of the money spent at Hamilton. By such concentrated effort more effective means could be used to secure advertising for the college publications from the proper sources.

White with rage a college youth paced
In and out the bathroom door;
And a crumpled tube of tooth paste
Lay before him on the floor.

"But if ever you esteem me,
Press the damn tube at the bottom!"

DOUBLETS TO SPRING

Canto One

The birds chant their cunning chromatic cadenzas
But Rain brings her colds and her moist influenzas.

Canto Two

All earth breathes the breath of its metamorPHOSis
But parts of the earth have a queer halitosis.

Canto Three

The blithe buds of nature spring fresh from the ground
And soon there'll be green poison ivy around.

Canto Four

The bees 'gin the humming of songs ever sung,
And start in by stinging the stupids they've stung.

Canto Five

And Nature implores cruel Winter to leave her,
And finds when he's gone that he gave her spring fever.

JAY KAY AUTHOR OF STIRRING POEM ON SPRING

Jay Kay has entered the camp of the enemy. He has accepted our challenge and herewith publishes one of his more serious works. He claims, it will be remembered, that the Gaboon could easily encourage men such as T. S. Eliot and Maxwell Bodenheim.

TO SPRING

By Jay Kay

Soft o'er the hills the pearly light of dawn
Sifts with a silken incredulity,
And gathering up her garments dewy-pearlled
Tip-toes across the ruby spangled lee.
The birds, wide-soaring from the sunny South
Drop silvery notes in lyric showers.
All nature throws upon her face a smile
A smile of birds and bees and flowers.

We must admit a partial defeat. Jay Kay has surprised us. Of course, there are one or two technical errors we might point out, such as the juxtaposition of the consonants, ts and d, in "garments dewy." But aside from one or two of these technicalities, which no doubt a little more experience will obviate, we are forced to acknowledge real worth in the above composition. Not that we are ready to admit that the Gaboon training accounts for it entirely, but we hereby mollify our former invectives against that excellent magazine.

Carpe will be glad to receive further work from Jay Kay or any other young poet. B. F. S.

She's got hot lips,
They're some pips,
You couldn't ask no mo'.
Chorus:

She said to I
What can it be?
She ain't a gonna cry

Northward o'er the icy rocks,
Northward o'er the sea,
My daughter comes with sunny locks:
This land's too warm for me!

And the bright Bull receives him.... —Thomson: Seasons.

Professor Wisewell:

And lo! where April, coming in his turn,
In changeful motleys, half of light and shade,
Leads his belated charge, a delicate maid,
A nymph with dripping urn. —R. H. Stoddard.

Professor Patton:

Come, gentle Spring, ethereal mildness, come. —Thomson.

Over the mountain by a mile

Year after year, plucky explorers try to climb Mount Everest, the world's highest peak, 29,141 feet high.

With a G-E supercharger feeding air at sea-level pressure to the engine, an airplane pilot can go far higher. Lieut. Macready has reached 34,509 feet over Dayton, Ohio. He would have soared over Mount Everest with more than a mile to spare!

The tasks attempted for centuries in almost every form of human endeavor have been conquered with the aid of electricity, with more than a mile to spare.

The impossible today will be accomplished by men and women now in college. The scientist and engineer are doing their share. It remains for men and women entering upon their life's work to profit by the new opportunities that are constantly appearing in every profession and vocation in the land.

The supercharger is a turbine air compressor, which revolves as fast as 41,000 times a minute—the highest speed ever developed by a commercial machine. It is designed and made by the General Electric Company, which also builds the big turbines that supply electric light and power.

INTERESTING FACTS OF HISTORY

Do You Know

—that Monticello, Jefferson's estate on a hill overlooking the University of Virginia is being restored by the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation and will be maintained by them for the American people?

Thomas Jefferson was born on April 13, 1743. He framed the Declaration of Independence. His associates, among whom were John Adams, Benjamin Franklin and John Hancock, knew that Jefferson could do this satisfactorily and they signed it, with minor changes, as it expressed the minds of the American people.

Jefferson and Adams both served as President of the United States for opposing parties. They became fast friends, and by a singular coincidence both died on July 4, 1826.

VERY English!
THE British vogue for the double-breasted coat is accurately exemplified in this jaunty suit of blue cheviot. All its lines are distinctly English, from the fit of the coat to the wide, straight trousers. To the man who wears the double-breasted coat effectively, this correctly designed and finely tailored suit will appeal strongly. The remarkably low price is made possible by our maker-to-wearer policy. Come in and compare!

REGISTER REVEALS ALUMNI SCATTERED

Recent Alumni Register Discloses Wide Geographical Distribution of Grads in All Parts of World

All the alumni of Hamilton College, if assembled, would constitute a town of more than 6,000 inhabitants, according to the statistics in the latest Alumni Register.

These figures show the total number of men who have attended Hamilton since its beginning as a college in the year 1812. Of this number 223 are graduates of the Law School which is no longer in existence, and 490 hold honorary degrees. The majority of the graduates received the Bachelor of Arts degree. Of these Hamilton alumni 2526 are still living.

At present there is a Hamilton graduate living in practically every corner of the civilized world, for of the six continents on the globe, Australia is the only one in which Hamilton is not represented.

Europe leads all the continents, except North America, in the number of alumni, although Asia is a close second. China, however, leads the countries of the world, excepting the United States, with thirteen, while England is second with eight. In addition to these countries there are alumni in Italy, France, Germany, Greece and other Central European countries including the recent state of Latvia. All the larger islands and groups are represented, although the United States' possessions have the greatest number. The two most distant alumni are in Cameroun, Africa, and Chile, while Persia and Siam are the most unusual residences.

The United States has roughly 97 per cent of the living alumni. These are scattered all over the Union, Mississippi and Arkansas being the only two states without an alumnus. Both New York City and New York State lead, respectively, among the cities and states in alumni. New Jersey is the second state, while Pennsylvania and distant California tie for third place.

One thing that is surprising is the fact that there are so many graduates in the West and Middle West. If New York be excepted from the figures, the western and middle western states have a slightly larger percentage of alumni than the East and the South.

TENNIS SQUAD DOES PRELIMINARY WORK

Freshman Material is Promising—First Game to be with Colgate April 25th Here on Hill

A squad of thirty men is working out daily for the tennis team. Practice has been under the charge of Coach Prettyman, who has put the men through a series of preliminary exercises. Particular stress has been laid upon the development and correction of service and upon net play.

It is expected that the squad will be divided into two parts in about a week. The first squad will be composed of about ten men, from among whom the team will be chosen that faces Colgate here on the 25th of April. Three letter men, Captain Chase, McGregor, and Davenport are left from last year. Four freshmen have shown up well in early matches, these men being Ballard, Fitzgerald, Reed and Warner. From last year's squad, Bingham, Soper, Paine, Johnson, and Thompson, are expected to give the letter men and the freshmen a hard push for places on the team.

An effort is being made to keep all men off the courts who do not wear tennis shoes. Considerable damage was done to Court No. 1 through the carelessness of players who dug up the soft clay with regular shoes. Except during gym class hours, the courts are open to the entire student body. If any extra courts are left during gym classes, these also may be occupied. After 4:30 p. m. five of the nine courts will be reserved for the members of the tennis team.

INTERESTING BOOK FOUND BY PROFESSOR IBBOTSON

While cataloguing some books recently, Professor Ibbotson discovered a very strange and interesting volume: a lexicon of the Greek and Latin languages, published in the 15th century. It is bound in old parchment and instead of having the usual iron clasps to hold it shut, it has an ingenious system of leather thongs. It is interesting to note that at the time the book was printed, books were placed on the shelves in a different manner from which they are now kept. For this reason the title of the volume is printed on the leaves, rather than on the binding.

The author devotes the fly-leaf of his volume to telling in no uncertain terms how much better his book is than any one ever published before. He also naively calls attention to his prowess as a writer.

Makes Autos Go 49 Miles On Gallon of Gasoline

An amazing new device has been perfected by James A. May, of 7025 Lacotah Bldg., Sioux Falls, So. Dak., that cuts down gas consumption, removes all carbon, prevents spark plug trouble and overheating. Many cars have made over 49 miles on a gallon. Any one can install it in five minutes. Mr. May wants agents and is offering to send one free to one auto owner in each locality. Write him today.

You've Never Smoked Finer Tobacco

Nature put the original flavor into burley tobacco. We have cultivated it. We have taken the golden-brown, sun-ripened leaf —cured it carefully, aged it as it should be aged,—and developed it into a smoking tobacco that has a fragrance and taste that passes description. No one can tell you how good Palmy Days really is. You must try it yourself. Then we will be content to leave the decision with you.

WORK OF TRACK TEAM ROUNDS INTO SHAPE

1ST MEET MIDDLEBURY MAY 2

Prospects Appear Bright in Track Events, but Less Promising in the Field Events

The mile relay team which will represent Hamilton at the Penn Relays at Philedalphia on April 25 has not yet been picked. A squad of about six men came back before the reopening of College after Spring vacation to get in condition for the big meet which is held annaully under the auspices of the University of Pennsylvania. The Buff and Blue team will be picked from the following men: Captain Thomas, H. Valentine, Taylor, LeFever, Jacobsen and Scovel. The last two men are freshmen. The work of Captain Thomas and LeFever has been exceptionally promising.

Hamilton will not enter any men in the individual events. In the past few years the Buff and Blue has made strong entries in the individual events with such men as Watson Thompson, famed two-miler, and Alec Alison, holder of the College sprint records. The four men who will be chosen to represent Hamilton in the relay will leave the Hill Thursday morning and have a day of rest on Friday in Philadelphia. The race takes place Saturday afternoon. Hamilton is in Class Fordham, Bowdoin, N. Y. U., Mary-B, which includes such colleges as land, and Union. Union will enter a team in both the Class A and Class B events. Two years ago the Buff and Blue won the Class B relay; last year Colby was victorious. Hamilton was represented last year by A. Alison, '24, V. Alison, '24, Thomas, '25, and Watkins, '25. Watkins is unable to run this year.

Track and Field Events

Prospects for the track team are similar to those of last year: it appears that Hamilton will be strong in the track events and weak in the field events. It is yet too early to know how much good material there is in the Freshman Class, although there are several promising men. The Buff and Blue will rely upon LeFever to win in the sprints; Jacobsen, Kinloch, Scovel and Yuan, all freshmen, have also shown speed on the cinder path. The middle distances will be taken care of by Captain Thomas, Robbins, Taylor, Jacobsen, Ahner, and Williams, '26. In the two-mile, the Buff and Blue has Snyder, who holds the course record for cross country, and Donaldson and Miller, both freshmen.

The team appears very weak in the field events. Stone, '27, who threw the javelin last year, is ineligible. Ireland, '26, who won his letter freshman year in the high jump, cannot jump on account of a bad knee. Much is expected from the freshmen in these events. From last year, the team has Van Vleet and Stanley, '26, for the shot-put; Michels and Holley for the javelin-throw and also the same two men for the pole vault; and Kaiser and Dold for the high jump. Captain Thomas, J. Valentine and Kaiser are trying out for the broad jump, while Stanley, '26, is doing well in the discus.

The first dual meet of the season will be on May 2 when Middlebury is met on the Hill.

SHOULD HAMILTON HAVE MORE RIGID ENTRANCE RULES?

rest of their college course, he declared that students who wish to idle away their time and dream through college might better spend that time in a great city library.

Dr. Ferry Interviewed

President Ferry is of the opinion that a selection can be made whereby the best 140 applicants will be admitted without sbmitting them to specific tests other than scholastic.

Dr. Ferry said, "We don't want 140 men with the highest grades only. We want 140 with the most character. We have received from other institutions the blank admission forms they use, and the committee at the present time is working over these forms.

"We're going to have more applicants than we can take, but I don't believe it's going to be incomparably worse than it was last autumn. I think it likely we shall raise the passing marks of the Regents to 75. That will only put us in accord with many of the better colleges. I see no likelihood of any great advance in scholastic requirements."

When asked if Hamilton would offer intelligence tests in determining the candidates' worth, he said, "The intelligence tests are going to be offered by the college entrance examination board beginning June 1926. We may decide to use them for whatever good we can get from them."

—On Saturday, April 18, there will be a tea dance at Sigma Phi House, from 4 to 7, given by the Sigs and D. U.'s jointly.
